Since 1996, the Rotary Club of Amersfoort-Regio, The Netherlands, has directed about US$270,000 worth of aid to Ghana, where club members have worked with non-profits to provide computers, a mobile medical clinic, water pumps, and educational facilities. This past June, representatives from the club and the My Book Buddy Foundation, which promotes literacy in developing countries, traveled to Ghana to deliver 2,000 books and 18 locally constructed bookcases to three schools. The Rotary Club of Erwitte-Hellweg, Germany, will join the effort to support five more schools this month.
